

Live Event Disclosure

Live sessions are typically recorded and shared with others in the group. Depending on your involvement, your name, voice, comments, and likeness may be captured as part of this recording.

Further, we may take 'snippets' from the recordings for marketing purposes. We respect your privacy and only intend to use parts of the recordings to elevate the value and success of our programs.

Therefore, before using any 'snippet' of a sensitive or emotional nature, we will ask for permission. However, a general conversation that captures the essence of the program may be shared automatically.

Additionally, other participants can see the name you enter on your profile, and may be captured as part of the recording.

By participating in this and any live events we offer, you acknowledge that your name, voice, comments, and likeness may be recorded and shared depending on your involvement.

If you are uncomfortable participating in these acknowledgments, please get in touch with us at office@angieates.com
